CHAPTER I.

THE FIRST DIVISION OF THE T̥UAT, WHICH IS CALLED NET-RĀ.

IN the scene that illustrates the FIRST DIVISION of the T̥uat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the FIRST HOUR of the night, we see that the centre of the middle section is divided lengthwise into

The Boat of Āf, the dead Sun-god.

two parts by a river which flows along it. In the upper part is the boat of the dead Sun-god Āf, , who is in the form of a ram-headed man; he wears a disk upon his head, and stands within a shrine in the SEKTET boat, i.e., the boat in which the god travels from noon to sunset. In front of the shrine in the boat stand the three deities, ÂP-UAT, , SA, , and the "Lady of the Boat,"  , who wears on her head a disk and horns. Behind the shrine stand five gods, each having the head of a man; the names of the first four are HERU-HEKENU,   , KA-SHU,  , i.e., the "double of Shu," NEHES,  , i.e., the "Look-out," and HU,  , and the fifth is the Steersman KHERP,   .

On the high prow of the Sektet boat hangs an object which is said to be a carpet by some, and a reed mat by others, and on the side, near the curve of the prow, is an utchat. In front of the boat march:—

1. The two goddesses MAÂT, the one representing the South of Egypt, and the other the North.

2. The god NEKENT-F,  , who holds a spear, or knife, in his left hand.

3. The god KHENTI ÂMENTET, bearded, and in mummy form, and wearing the White Crown and the Menât.

4. The god SEKHET, or as it is written here SEKHMET,  , lioness-headed.

5. The god SEHETCH-UR,   , ram-headed.

6. Four Terms, the first of which is called UT-METU-RÂ, no reed *mat or carpet hanging from the prow, we may assume that it is intended to represent the Ātet or Mātet Boat, i.e., the boat in which the Sun-god travelled over the sky from sunrise to noon.

The Boat of the Birth of Osiris, with serpents and gods.

In front of the boat glide three serpents, which are called SEK-RE,   , SEFĀ,  , and NEPEN,  , and in front of these march four man-headed

The address which the Sun-god makes to the gods in the First Division of the Tuat reads :¹—

¹ See Lefebure, op. cit., part iv., pl. 28, and Description de l'Égypte, tom. v., pl. 41, no. 5.

The Majesty of this god standeth up after he hath taken up his position in this Court, and he addresseth words to the gods who are therein, saying, "Open ye to me your doors, and let me come into your Courts! Give ye light unto me, and make ye yourselves guides to me, O ye who came into being from my members, my word hath gone forth to you. Ye are made of my bodies, I have made you, having fashioned you of my soul. I have created you, I have made you by means

“of my enchantments, [and] I have come to avenge “myself the blood of my members which have risen up “against me, and I will bring to destruction that which “hath been made for it. I will make perfect with the
“ of my forms Osiris Khenti Āmenti. Open
“to me the doors with your hands, O ye Apes, unfold
“to me the portals of the Courts, O ye Apes, [and “welcome] the gods (or, goddesses) who have come “into being from my divine Souls, come ye into being, “come ye into being for(?) KHEPERĀ, O ye who have “Court which ye guard, possess ye your plans in your

The gods of this Court say unto Rā, “O great god,

 This great god passeth them by, and they (i.e., the gods) wail when he hath gone by them in the FIELD OF URNES. [The goddess of] the hour who guideth [this great god] through this Court is "USHEM-HĀT-KHEFTIU-

CHAPTER II.

THE SECOND DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH IS CALLED URNES.

IN the scene that illustrates the SECOND DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god

The Boat of Af in the Second Hour.

during the SECOND HOUR of the night, the Boat of the Ram-headed god Af is seen making its way along the stream which flows, as before, through the division lengthwise; the crew consists of the same gods, and they occupy the same positions in the boat as they did in the First Division. It is, however, important to notice that immediately in front of Âp-uat we see two serpents, which are called Isis and Nephthys respectively, , occupying the front of the boat. No carpet or mat hangs over the bows of the boat, and the utchat is not represented on its side; the boat moves over the waters by means of some power exerted either by itself or by some of the gods who stand in it. In front of the boat of Âf the way is led by a procession of four boats, which are moved, presumably, by the same power which moves the boat of Râ.

The FIRST BOAT has ends which terminate in bearded human heads, and its celestial and solar character is attested by the sign for "heaven," , and the utchat , with which its sides are ornamented. The object of this boat is to support the disk of the full moon, which rests within a crescent upon a support divided into thirteen sections, each typifying a day; thus the full moon as it appears on the fourteenth day of the month is here represented. By the disk kneels a god who is "supporting Maât,"   , which is symbolized by a feather, and is described by the word MAÂT, , written between it and the support of the moon's disk. In the mutilated text above the boat it is said that "this great god approacheth this "region, and he is conveyed along in the boats of the "earth, by means of their , and he paddleth

"along through this Field and uttereth. words,"

The Boat of the Full Moon.

The name of the fore part of the boat appears to be URER,  , and in front of the boat is written "Chief of the gods of the Tuat,"    ;¹

1 Var.

the hieroglyphics above the full moon read
  , and those above the stern of the boat read, "Field of him that beareth up URNES,"

The ends of the SECOND BOAT likewise terminate in

The Boat of the goddess Hathor.

bearded human heads, but each is surmounted by a pair of plumes. In the centre of the boat, between two goddesses, stands a huge sistrum, which is the symbol of the goddess Hathor, and indicates that the boat is that of HATHOR, or of HATHOR-ISIS. In the fore part of the boat is a beetle, which is described as "This great god NEPER,"      .

Above the goddess to the left of the sistrum are written the words, "their boats send forth their words,"

; over the plumed head in front is written , and over that at the other end of the boat, "Osiris crieth to it,"

The Boat of the Lizard-god.

. On the side of the boat are the signs .

The prow of the THIRD BOAT is surmounted by a crown of the South, and the stern by a crown of the North, and between the two sceptres, , which symbolize the gods ANPU and AP-UAT, i.e., the jackal-headed gods of the South and North, is a huge lizard, from the back of which spring the head of Osiris and a White Crown. On the side of the boat are the signs and . Above the crown of the North is the legend U-UR, , which, however, probably refers to the sceptre near it; above the lizard we have

The Boat of the Grain-god Neper.

The prow and stern of the FOURTH BOAT terminate in heads of uraei, each of which is turned towards the deity who is kneeling in the middle of the boat. In the centre kneels a woman without arms, and before and behind her stands a man, who is likewise without arms. At each end of the boat grows a plant or, perhaps, a large ear of wheat, which indicates that the boat is that of the form of Osiris as the god of vegetation, who is known by the name NEPER. The legend by the ear of corn in the front of the boat reads, "the boat which conveyeth Neper," , and that by the ear in the stern, "collector(?) of herbs and plants," . The deity in the boat, or the boat itself perhaps, is called HEPT-MENÄ-F-TUA-UÄÄ-F, . . This boat is the boat of the god NEPER, the god of grain, and a form of Osiris as the god of vegetation; it may be noted that its side has no utchat  upon it.

"[Those who are in this picture] praise this great
 "god after he hath come forth to them, and behold, it "is their words which lead him to them; they lament
 "when he hath passed onwards, having spoken words
 "to them. Behold, these gods are they who make the "words of those who are upon earth to reach [the god],
 "and it is they who make souls to approach their forms.
 "Their work consisteth in causing to come into being "the offerings of the night, and in performing the “overthrow [of enemies] at their hour. It is they who “guard the day, and who bring on the night until this “great god cometh forth from out of the thick dark“ness to repose in this Court of the eastern horizon of “heaven. They cry out in lamentation to this great “god, and they utter wailings for him after he hath “passed by them. Those who know them shall come “forth by day, and he shall be able to journey

 “during the night to the divisions of the great double “city.”

The texts which describe the duties of the gods in the lower register read:—

"[Those who are in this picture give unto this great
 "god the seasons] and the years which are in their "hands. When this great god hath made speech with "them, they answer him, and they have life through "the voice of this great god, and their throats draw in
 "breath, for when he crieth to them he ordereth them
 "what they are to do, and he appointeth to them green
 "herbs in abundance in their field. And they supply
 "with the green herbs of URNES the gods who are in "the following of Rā, and they make offerings of water "to the spirits by the command of this great god, and "they kindle flames of fire in order to burn up the "enemies of Rā, and there is wailing to them, and they "lament after this great god hath passed them by.
 "ÂM-NEBÂUI is the guardian of this Field; whosoever
 "knoweth [this] is in the condition of a spirit equipped
 "with [words of power], and [the gods] protect [him]."

The five lines of text which contain the address of the gods to Rā, and the answer of the god, read:—

The gods of the Ṭuat speak to this great god as he entereth in with understanding to the boundary, and he is borne over NET-RĀ into URNES, saying, "Hail, "thou who risest as a Mighty Soul (KHĀ-BA-ĀĀ), who "hast received [the things which belong to] the Ṭuat, "ĀF, thou guardian of heaven thou livest, O "ĀF, in TA-ṬESERT. Come thou, and cast thou thine "eye in thy name of Living One, Kheperā, at the head "of the Ṭuat. Traverse thou this Field, O thou who "hast might, bind thou with fetters the HĀU serpent, "and smite thou the serpent Neḥa-ḥrā. There is "rejoicing in heaven, and there are shouts of gladness "upon the earth at the entrance of thy (literally, his) "body. He who shineth sendeth forth light, and the "URU gods give light [at dawn; destroy thou] the “darkness which is in AMENT in thy name of SEKHER-SHETAU-UR-Ā, illumine thou the thick darkness, O ĀF. “His jawbones are to him, and Rā taketh up his “position in AMENT. Thy boat is to thee, and it is thy “right, thou art guided along, and those who convey “thee over the water and who dwell in the earth make “calamities to come upon ĀPEP straightway on thy “behalf. Thy protector is the Star-God (SBA), thou “art praised and adored, thy soul passeth on, thou “goest onward and thy body is equipped with power, “and the regions (?) are opened [to thee]. The doors “of the hidden land are opened [before thee], OSIRIS “cometh unto thee, OSIRIS avengeth thee, and thy “word is maāt against thy enemies. Thou goest to “rest, thou goest to rest in AMENT, and thou comest “into being in the form of KHEPERĀ in the East.”

This great god sendeth forth words to the gods who dwell in the Tuat and to those who inhabit URNES, saying, “Open ye your hidden doors so that the god “ĀF may look [upon you] and may throw aside your “darkness, and that ye may draw your water from “URNES, and your bread from, and that wind “may come to your nostrils, and that ye may not be “destroyed and overcome by your own foul odour, and “that ye may not be choked by your own dung, and “that ye may untie and cast away your swathings, and “that ye may lift up your legs and walk upon them, “and that ye may stretch out your arms, and that your “souls may not be made to remove themselves from

 "your words of magical power, who are provided with "your swords [whereby] ye may hack in pieces the

 "loaves of bread made of the grain which is yours,
 "whose word is maāt, depart from my boats, and

 "through the night and when I destroy the darkness,
 "O grant me your help so that I may travel on in the "following of my eye, and that I may journey forwards
 "with those who go to my place in the East. Utter
 "ye cries of joy, O gods of the Tuat, for I avenge you,
 "[utter ye cries of joy,] for I order your destinies."

When they have addressed this god whilst rowing along his boat ÂM-TA, they cry out, and they bring him to rest in the Field of the NEPERTIU gods who are in the following of Osiris. If these scenes be done [in writing] according to the similitudes which are in the hidden place of the palace, and if a man hath knowledge of [these] words . . . they shall act as magical protectors of a man upon earth, regularly, unfailingly, and eternally. The name of this hour is SESHET-MĀKET-NEB-S.

CHAPTER III.

THE THIRD DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH
* IS CALLED NET-NEB-UÂ-KHEPER-ÂUT.

IN the scene which illustrates the THIRD DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god

The Boat of Âf, the dead Sun-god, in the Third Hour.

during the THIRD HOUR of the night, we see the boat of the god making its way over the waters of the river in the underworld. The dead Sun-god Āf stands within a shrine in the form of a ram-headed man, as before, but there is a change in the composition of the crew, which now consists only of four mariners, two of whom stand before the shrine and two behind, and the goddess of the hour and a hawk-headed deity, one of the forms of Horus, who is occupied in tying loops of rope to the elongated hawk-headed rowlocks in which the paddles may be worked. The boat of Āf follows in the train of three boats, which may be thus described:—

The foremost boat is called UĀA-PENĀT, ,

i.e., "The boat which capsizeth"; it contains three hawk-headed forms of the god Horus, and is steered by two male figures, who stand one in the bows and the other at the stern. In the middle of the boat stand the hawk-god BÂK, , and the hawk-goddess BÂKET, , and behind them, standing on a snake, is the third form of Horus. Between the front steersman and BÂKET is the serpent TEKA-ĤRÂ, , i.e., "Fiery face," and the aft steersman bears a name of similar meaning, NÂB-ĤRÂ, .

The second boat is called UÂA-HERER, , i.e., "The boat of Rest," and has in the middle an Osiris god in the form of a mummy; each end of the boat terminates in the head of a cynocephalus, and it is steered by two beings, one of whom is called ṬESEM-ḤRĀ-F, i.e., "He whose face is like a knife," and the other KHEN-EN-URT-F,

The Boat of the Branch.

i.e., "The ferryman who resteth not." The Osiris god stands between two gods, one of whom is called ĀU-MATU, and the serpent which stands on its tail between the steersman in the bows and the first god is called SET-EM-ḤRĀ-F,

The third boat is called PA-KHET,  , i.e., "The Branch," and each end terminates in the head of a lion. In the middle of it stands the form of Osiris, who is called SHEFSHEF,  , and he wears on his head a pair of ram's horns; his arms and the upper portion of his body are swathed. Behind him stands the mummied form called ÂM-TA,  , and before him the god NEB-UAST,    . Of the two steersmen, only the name of the second, KHEN, or KHENNU,  , is given; the name of the serpent which stands on its tail is SET-EM-MAAT-F,

The procession of boats is met by four forms of Osiris, who stand with the upper portion of their bodies swathed. Their names are:—1. NEB-NET,

2. MENI, . 3. ARI-TCHERU,

4. MAA-TCHERU,

The text written above the boats reads:—

"This great god journeyeth over NET-NEB-UÂ-KHEPER-"ÂUT (i.e., the Water of the Lord One, the Creator of "food). [He who is in] this picture transporteth the
 "boats which are in the earth, and he paddleth Osiris
 "to this City. This great god resteth for a period in "this City, and he sendeth forth his voice to Osiris,
 "and to those who are in his following, and [then]
 "these hidden boats guide him into this Field. This "great god paddleth through this Field towards the "Hour TĒNT-BAIU, and these boats journey round to
 "the district of THĒTTU, after traversing this City.
 "Whosoever knoweth these things shall have both his
 "habitation and his bread with Rā."

In the upper register are the following:—

1. A dog-headed ape seated on an oval mass of sand; he is called HER-SHĀ-F, , or ,
 "He who is on his sand."

 and NEHEM-KHERU,    , or NEHA-

M. Maspero, in his description of the THIRD HOUR,¹

¹ The portions rendered by M. Maspero read thus:—Ce grand dieu dit aux Biou shetiou (âmes mystérieuses) qui suivent Osiris : “O vous dont j’ai rendu mystérieuses, dont j’ai occulté les âmes, “que j’ai mis à la suite d’Osiris pour le défendre, pour escorter ses “images, pour anéantir ceux qui l’attaquent, si bien que le dieu Hon “est à toi, ô Osiris, derrière toi, pour te défendre, pour escorter tes “images, pour anéantir ceux qui l’attaquent, si bien que Hon est à “toi, ô Osiris, que Sa est à toi, ô Khontamentit, vous dont les formes “sont stables, vous dont les rites assurent l’existence, vous qui “respirez l’air [de vos narines, qui voyez] de vos faces, qui écoutez “de vos oreilles, qui êtes coiffés de vos couffèh, qui êtes vêtus de vos “bandelettes, qui avez des revenus d’offrandes à vous sur terre par “l’office des prêtres du dieu, qui avez des champs à vous de votre “propre domaine, vous dont les âmes ne sont point renversées, dont “les corps ne sont point culbutés, ouvrez vos cercles et tenez-vous à “vos places, car je suis venu pour voir mes corps, inspecter mes “images qui sont dans l’autre monde, et vous m’avez convoyé pour “me permettre de leur apporter mon aide, si bien que je conduis à “la rame ton âme au ciel, ô Osiris, ton âme à la terre, ô Khonta- “ougrit, avec tes dieux derrière toi, tes mânes devant toi, ton être “et tes formes [sur toi ?], et alors ton mâne est enchanté, ô Osiris, “vos mânes sont enchantés, ô vous qui suivez Osiris. includes an extract from the speech which the Sun-god Rā makes to the inhabitants of NET-NEB-UĀ-KHEPER-ĀUT; as he points out, though three copies of the speech are extant, all are mutilated (see Lefébure, Le Tombeau de Seti I^{er}, 1^{re} partie, pll. xv.-xvii., pll. xviii.-xx., and pl. xxii.), and it is impossible at present to reconstruct the text, although the general meaning of several sentences is clear enough.

CHAPTER IV.

THE FOURTH DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH IS CALLED ANKHET-KHEPERU.

IN the scene that illustrates the FOURTH DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the FOURTH HOUR of the night, a region which is entirely different from anything seen previously is entered. We see that the general arrangement which makes each Division to contain three sections has been followed, but the actual path of the Boat of the Sun is different. Instead of passing along the middle section as before, the god is obliged to pass over the region of the kingdom of Seker. The course which was usually passed over by the dead runs from one side of the section to the other diagonally, and it may be thus described:—Starting from the upper side of the top-most division, the corridor, which is called RE-STAU,

, slants across to the lower side; at the point where it touches the line which divides the first and second section is a door, which is thrown open.

The door is called MĀTES-SMA-TA,
, or . The corridor runs

The Kingdom of Seker.

As the further course of the corridor will be described under the Fifth Hour we may pass on to consider the Boat of the Sun, and the means by which the god makes his way onward.

Rā and the gods who formed his crew have left the boat in which they travelled until now, and have betaken themselves to one, each end of which terminates in the head of a serpent. This serpent-boat is drawn along by four gods, who are called TUN-EN-MAĀ, is written, "[Whilst] this great god journeyeth over those who are in this scene the flames which the mouth of his boat emit guide him through these pools; he seeth not their forms, but he crieth to them and to their places, and they hear his voice,"

In front of those who tow the boat of Rā are:—

1. A form of Osiris called EM-ĀNKHTI, , or  (see p. 71).

2. The crook of Osiris, , or  (see p. 75).

3, 4. Thoth, ibis-headed, and Horus, hawk-headed, standing facing each other, with the UTCHAT, , above their outstretched hands and arms; the title of Thoth is UTHESU, , or , i.e., “the Raiser,” and that of Horus is ĀU-ĀU, , or , “the wide of hands.” The Uchat is called SEKRI, .

5. The god SETHEN-ĪĀT, , wearing the crown of the South.

6. The god ĤER-TEBAT-F, , i.e., “He who is over his place of burial,” having in the place of a head two curved objects, which M. Maspero identifies with mummy bandages (see p. 79).

7. The god UATCH-ĪRĀ, , i.e., “Green Face” (see p. 79).

8. The god ĤETEP, , who carries the crook of Osiris mentioned above (No. 2) (see p. 79).

9—11. Three gods, each of whom carries  in his left hand, whose names are SEM-ĀNKH,  , AN-HER,  , and UT-MET,   (see pp. 79, 83).

12. The goddess NEBT-ĀNKH,   (see p. 83).

The text which refers to these beings reads:—

“Those who are in this picture, in their forms of “their bodies, are the hidden [travellers] upon the way “of the holy country whose secret things are hidden.
 “They are the guardians of the way of the holy [land]
 “for those who enter into the hidden place of the “Tuat, and they keep ward over Anpu in his forms as “he tows them along, when he entereth in by them in “the holy land.”

In the upper register are:—

1. A goddess, wearing the crown of the North, apparently a form of Neith (see p. 63).

2. A serpent, with a human head, and two pairs of human feet and legs (see p. 63).

 Of them it is said, “Those who are in this “picture make their passage to every place each day,” (see p. 67).

6. The scorpion ĀNKHET, , and a large uraeus. Of these it is said, “Those who are in this picture “stand in Re-stau at the head of the way [to guard

Behind these stands a god, who appears to be making an offering of two libation vases to the serpent. Of him it is said, “He who is in this picture is the guide of the holy way,”   (see p. 71).

7. A three-headed serpent, with a pair of hawk's wings, and two pairs of human legs, and of him it is said, “He who is in this picture in the Tuat is the “warder of this holy way of Re-stau; he liveth upon “the abundance [which cometh] from his wings, his

5. A lion-headed goddess called HEN-KHERTH(?), (see p. 71).

6. A goddess, with a pair of horns on her head, in a sitting position, but with no throne to sit upon; her name is THEST-ÂPT, (see p. 71). Of these beings it is said, "Those who are in this picture are in "the forms wherein Horus made them, and they stand "on the ground of Re-stau in the hidden place"

7. The male serpent ÂMEN, (see pp. 75, 77).

CHAPTER V.

THE FIFTH DIVISION OF THE TÛAT, WHICH IS CALLED ÂMENT.

IN the scene that illustrates the FIFTH DIVISION of the TÛat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the FIFTH HOUR of the night, we see the boat of the sun being drawn along by seven gods and seven goddesses (see pp. 91, 95, 99, 103, 107). The legend over the seven gods is partly broken away, but what remains of it proves that it must have been similar in meaning to that which is over the heads of the goddesses, which reads, "These are the goddesses which tow Râ along in the "TÛat over this Circle, and they make this great god "to advance so that he may rest in NU in the TÛat,"

In front of the seven goddesses march four gods, who appear to be under the guidance of "Isis of Âmentet," 𓆎𓅓, and who are described as the "great sovereign

"chiefs who provide food in this Circle," 𓆎𓅓𓆎𓅓𓆎𓅓𓆎𓅓𓆎𓅓𓆎𓅓

 The first god is called HER-KHU, and holds a staff in his hand; the second is AN-HEH, , and holds the sceptre  in his hand; the third is HERU-HEH, , is hawk-headed, and holds the crook  in his hand; the fourth is UT-METW, , and holds a tree in his left hand.

The text containing the address of the Sun-god to the seven gods is broken away, and all that remains of it reads, "This great god maketh his journey by means
 "of those who tow him over this Circle in [his] boat

 A portion of the answer of the seven gods to him is also broken away, but what remains of it reads, "Is opened to thee the earth to "such an extent that thou hast passed over the Beautiful
 "Land, and the roads concerning which Râ hath spoken
 "to thee, O Osiris. Thou criest out, O Râ, to the Land
 "of Seker, and Horus hath life upon his sands. Come "to Kheperâ, O Râ! Come to Kheperâ! Work ye
 "with the cord, O ye who make Kheperâ to advance,
 "so that it may give the hand (i.e., help) to Râ whilst
 "he passeth over the hidden ways of Râ, in the horizon.
 "[Come] in peace, in peace, O Râ of the Beautiful

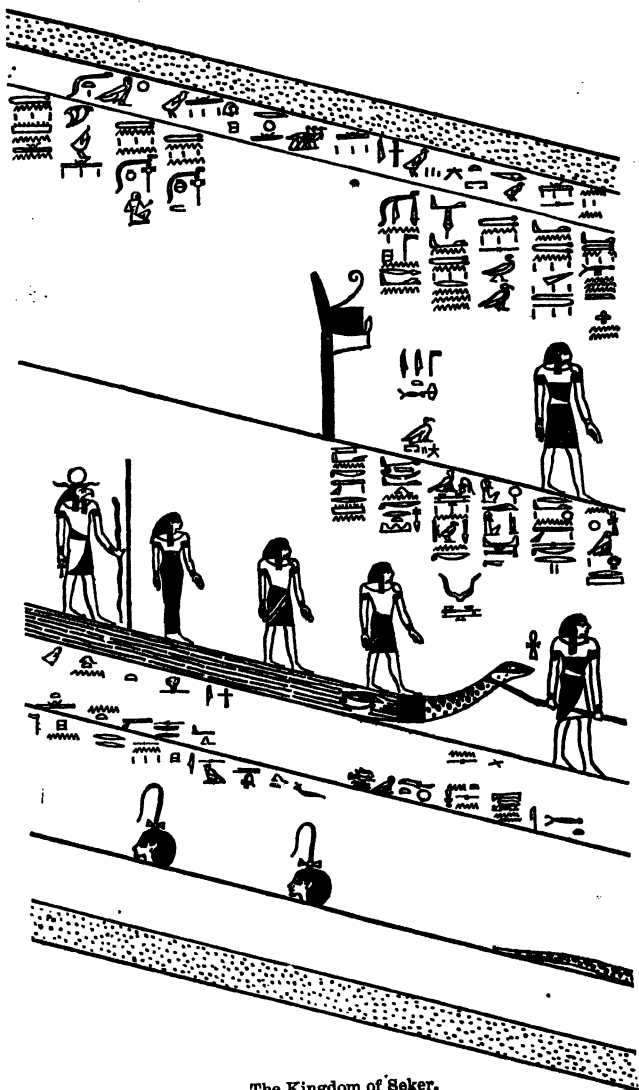

The Kingdom of Seker.

In the middle of the scene we see that the ground rises (see p. 103) and forms a kind of hollow mound, the highest point of which terminates in the head of a woman, which faces to the right; immediately above her head is a scarab which is in the act of descending, but only one half of its body is visible. Concerning the beetle it is said, "Behold Kheperá "who, immediately the [boat of Rā] is towed to the "top of this Circle, unites himself to the roads of "the Tuat; when this god standeth on the head of "the goddess he speaketh words to Seker every day,"

The short lines of text just above the mound read, "The majesty of this great god journeyeth on by "being towed along, and these goddesses receive him,"

The Kingdom of Seker.

"stand up by you for your protection when I pass by you
 "in peace,"

The "Land of Sekri,"

which is mentioned by the seven gods who are towing the boat of Rā, lies immediately below the mound of earth, and forms, as it were, an oval island in the river of the Tuat; its shape is, as M. Maspero has said, an elongated ellipse, , and it is formed wholly of sand. The "Land of Sekri" is described in the legend which is written at each end of the oval as "The horizon (?) of the hidden country of Sekri, which guardeth the hidden body (or, flesh),"

This mysterious oval is supposed to rest upon the bodies of two man-headed lion sphinxes set tail to tail; of these, however, only the heads and fore quarters the top of it, which project from the long, narrow lake called NETU,  ; these are called the "Blazing heads,"      |. Along the lake are written, in two methods of writing, "The gods who are "in the Ammāhet weep when the boat hath passed "them by on its way to the Tuat "and the waters which are here are like unto fire "to those who are in them,"     |

1. The goddess ĀMENTIT, standing with her arms stretched out in front of her at right angles to her body, and wearing the feather of Maāt on her head (see p. 87).

2. A group of nine large axes (four are broken away), the foremost surmounted by the Crown of the North, and the hindmost by the Crown of the South (see pp. 87, 91). The mutilated speech of the god written above them reads, "Give me thy hand (i.e., help me) Amentet! "Good is this water which leadeth to the tomb [where] "rest the gods. Hail, exist ye, O nine gods who have "come into being from my flesh, and have not come "into being from your own forms, and who are firm in "respect of your food, I avenge you, do ye avenge me."

3. The god who is the "guardian of those who are submerged," (see pp. 91, 95).

4. The god SATIU (?), (see p. 95).

5. The god ANKH-AB, , hawk-headed (see p. 95).

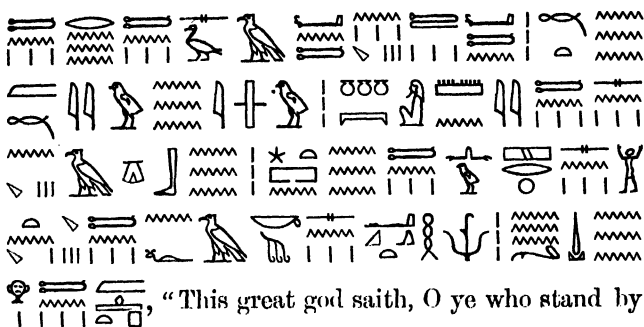

6. The god BATH-RESTH (?) crocodile-headed, (see p. 95).

7. The god ANP-IHENI, , jackal-headed (see p. 99). Of these five gods it is said, "They act as "guardians of Net, and of those who are submerged in
"the Tuat, and they [protect] and make to pass on the "boat,"

To these the Sun-god makes an address, which reads

The Kingdom of Seker.

“This great god saith, O ye who stand by

“your waters, who keep ward over your lands, who go “round about in the pool of those who are submerged
 “in Nu, pilot ye these to the lands of the sea of the “Tuat, unto your waters which never dry up, and rise “ye up in your lands and let me travel over you in “peace. This great god saith, O ye, lift ye up your “weapons to your image, and protect ye the “foreheads of your maât, and perform ye your work,
 “in order that I may be able to pass by you in peace,”

8. Immediately in front of the god ANP-IIENI is an object which looks like a chamber with a rounded roof; but whatever it may be, it is filled with sand, and from the fact that the sign of “night” or “darkness,” , appears at the top, we may conclude that it represents some form of the dark underworld of Seker. To each side of it a hawk clings by his claws, and from the lower part of it emerges the scarab, which has already been mentioned (see p. 103).

9. A huge serpent, the two heads facing the object described under No. 8. Of him it is said, "He liveth by Râ every day, he travelleth over every place of maat in the Tuat, and it is he who setteth himself in opposition to the scarab,"

 To this serpent

Râ saith, "Hail, thou serpent TER, whom I myself have fashioned, open thou to me thy folds, open thou thy folds wherewith thou hast doubly sealed the earth to protect me, and march thou against those who are in my following, in order that I may pass by thee in peace,"

10. The god BAFERKHEFTIU, , ram-headed (see p. 111).

11. The god IU-HER-ÂPTESU, , who holds a lasso in each hand (see p. 111).

The Kingdom of Seker.

The text of the speech which the god makes to the eight gods reads :—

“The Majesty of this great god saith unto them, “Hail, ye who stand at the blocks of torture, and who “keep ward at the destruction of the dead, ye whose “voices have come into being for you, who have “received your words of power, who are endowed with “your souls, who sing hymns to the accompaniment of “your sistra, who take vengeance on the enemies, who “annihilate the dead, who hack in pieces shades [of

The entrance into the Sixth Division of the Tuat is made through a door in the lower register, which is guarded by a serpent “who openeth it himself,”

CHAPTER VIII.

THE EIGHTH DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH IS CALLED TEBAT-NETERU-S.

THE scene that illustrates the EIGHTH DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the EIGHTH HOUR of the night, is introduced by four lines of text which read:—

“The Majesty of this great god taketh up its place in “the Circles of the hidden gods who are on their sand,

"and he addresseth to them words in his boat whilst
 "the gods tow him along through this City by means of "the magical powers of the serpent MEHEN. The name "of the gate of this City is ÂHÂ-ÂN-URT-NEF. The name "of this City is ȚEBAT-NETERU-S. The name of the "Hour of the night which guideth this great god is
 "NEBT-USHA."

The Circles of this Division are thus described:—

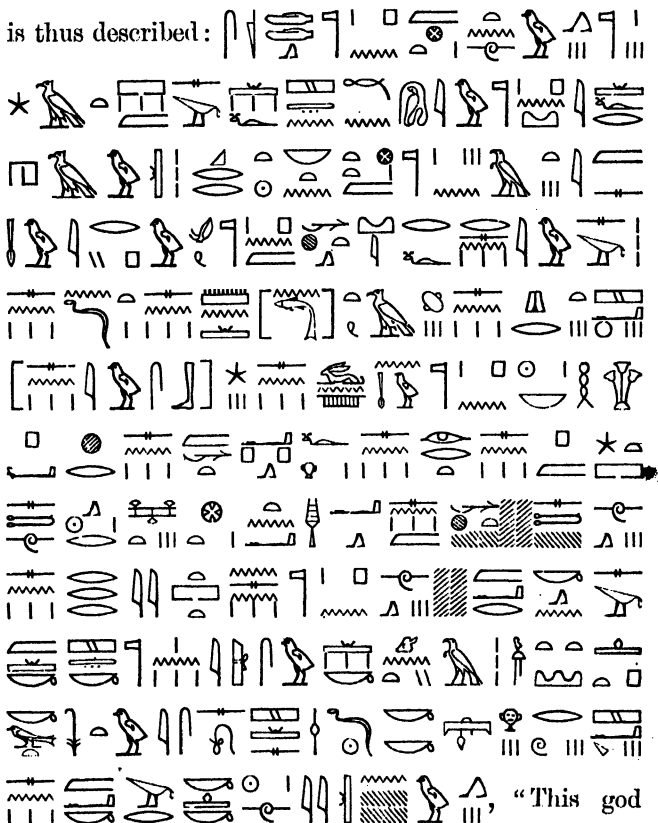

"The hidden Circles of Ament which are passed "through by the great god, his boat being towed along
 "by the gods who dwell in the Țuat; let them be made
 "according to the figures [which are depicted] on the "north of the hidden palace in the Țuat. Whosoever
 "knoweth them by their names shall be the possessor
 "of swathings upon earth, and he shall not be repulsed
 "at the hidden gates, and he shall have offerings in very
 "great abundance regularly and perpetually."

In the middle register are:—

- 1, The boat of the sun, in which the god stands under a canopy formed by the body of the serpent Mehen, being towed along by nine gods. His passage is thus described:

“maketh his way into this City, being towed along “by the gods of the Tuat, in his hidden form of “MEHEN. This god sendeth forth a cry to the regions

"of every Circle
 "of this City, and
 "also to the gods
 "who are there-
 "in, and it is the "voice of them
 "which this god
 "heareth after he
 "hath sent forth
 "a cry to them.
 "The figures of "their bodies
 "remain always
 "with their dead
 "bodies which
 "are under their
 "sand, and their
 "gates open to
 "the voice of
 "this god each
 "day, and then
 "they hide them"selves after he

 "work in the
 "Tuat is to tow
 "Râ along over
 "the ways of this

 "thyself strong"ly to it, and

 "to lighten the "darkness of
 "those who are
 "on their sands.
 "We beseech
 "thee to come
 "and to unite
 "thyself, O Rā,
 "to those who
 "tow thee along."
 The eight gods

who tow along the boat of Râ are thus described:

"are the gods of the Tuat who tow along Râ in the "place where the gods have their sepulchres (TEBAT-NETERU-SET), and he is [acclaimed] by those who are "in this City. The images secret of TATHENEN, of "Horus (?), [and of] the gods are with them."

2. Nine large objects somewhat in the form of the hieroglyphic shems, which has the meaning of "follower" or "servant"; unlike this sign, however, each of the nine objects is provided with a huge knife, and from the curved end of each is suspended a human head. Each of these is seated upon an instrument for weaving,

 "entered into this City of the gods who are on their
